Question: in C-12.8.3, third paragraph, in reference to Wheelhouse hardware and software, it states that "Contractor shall have dedicated personnel to support maintenance scheduling, data entry to include common verbiage, accuracy of entries, completion entries, inventories and quality assurance checks. Please clarify what "dedicated personnel" means. Does it mean that a person(s) is 100% dedicated to doing this work in Wheelhouse, or can that person(s) have other functions as well?

Question: in Section L under Factor 3:PRICE section 3, it states that "The Government will evaluate offers for award purposes by adding the total price for all options, including the potential six months option period available under FAR 52.217-8, to the total price for the basic requirement." It further states that "The pricing used for the option under FAR 52.217-8 will be based on the fourth option period monthly unit price multiplied by six (6) for all CLINs except the Reimbursable CLIN. The price for the Reimbursable CLIN will be $500,000.00." This would be fine for pricing that relates to a "per day" cost, or that could be started and stopped with short notice, such as consumables purchases, and payrolls of crew and staff; however, a few items, most specifically the Wheelhouse annual subscription, and possibly a few other pricing items, cannot be fully recovered within 6 months unless the full value of the CLIN, rather than the 1/2 value, as proposed, is used in the pricing. Please clarify how the government expects the offerors to recover their costs in the Option period under FAR 52.217-8 in these instances.
